

Words & pictures to explain a child protection conference

Why is there a meeting called a child protection conference?

We are worried about you and need to chat about how we can keep you safe & happy

Who is the conference chair?

I help to bring everyone together to talk about what we are worried about & agree a plan that helps you & your family & keeps you safe & happy

Who goes to a child protection conference?

You, your parents & family meet with the adults that know you, like your teacher, the school nurse and your social worker

What happens at a child protection conference?

We talk about what is working well in your family and what we are worried about. We make plans about what needs to happen next, and we write this down

What happens after a child protection conference?

We will work with you & your family to keep you safe & happy; we will meet regularly with you & your family to talk about what is going well and what we are still worried about

What Next?

You, your parents & family will come together to have child protection conference meetings to think about what needs to happen next. When everyone agrees that all the worries are sorted out and you are safe, the meetings will stop
